

Adam Buchwalter

Partner

adam.buchwalter@wilsonelser.com

Madison, NJ – 973.735.5784

Adam Buchwalter is engaged in the practice of estate and tax planning, including developing strategies for limiting estate and income taxes, providing for a disabled child, selecting fiduciaries to manage one's affairs, and setting up ancillary documents including powers of attorney and advance directives for health care.

Adam's practice also deals with all aspects of estate administration, from probate and gathering assets to preparing estate tax returns and distributing assets to the estate's beneficiaries.

Education

- St. John's University School of Law (J.D., 2008)
 - cum laude
- Lafayette College (A.B., 2004)
 - magna cum laude

Bar Admissions

- New Jersey
- New York

Publications

April 14, 2026

Chambers and Partners Publishes Farmer, Buchwalter, and Elpren in 2026 Art & Cultural Property Law Practice Guide

Services

- Mergers & Acquisitions
- Trusts & Estates
- Tax Planning & Controversies
- Wealth Preservation

Chambers and Partners USA

April 9, 2025

Chambers and Partners USA Publishes Art Law Update by Farmer, Buchwalter & Elpren

Chambers and Partners USA / Law and Practice

August 8, 2022

The State Income Tax Conundrum Upon the Sale of a Business

Tax Notes – State

October 26, 2020

Benefits for U.S. Retirement Plan Participants in the Malta-U.S. Tax Treaty

Tax Notes International / Commentary & Analysis