Atlanta, GA – 470.666.5890

Alex Resnak defends insureds in a variety of matters, including trucking, premises liability, and professional liability and malpractice cases. His practice focuses on appellate advocacy and complex legal brief writing. With a strong command of legal research, persuasive writing, and appellate procedure, Alex represents clients in high-stakes appeals and dispositive motion practice.

Alex regularly drafts appellate briefs, dispositive motions, and strategic legal memoranda across a range of civil matters. Known for clear analysis and compelling written advocacy, Alex helps distill complex records and legal issues into persuasive arguments for appellate courts and trial courts alike.

In addition to handling appeals, Alex collaborates with trial attorneys to preserve issues for appeal, develop post-trial strategies, and prepare critical motions, including motions to dismiss, summary judgment motions, and appellate briefs. This integrated approach ensures that cases are positioned effectively both in the trial court and on appeal.

Alex earned his J.D. from Georgia State University College of Law, where he developed a strong foundation in legal writing and appellate advocacy. He is admitted to practice in state and superior courts of Georgia, the Georgia Court of Appeals, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia. Before practicing law, Alex used his degree in sports journalism to work for four years as the sports editor at a newspaper.

Client Wins

Washburn and Resnak Obtain Summary Judgment in Common Carrier Injury Case

Lee Washburn (Partner-Atlanta, GA) and Alex Resnak (Associate-Atlanta, GA) obtained summary judgment in a personal injury case against our client, an international operator of governmental transit systems, in the State Court of Gwinnett County, Georgia. The plaintiff fell while riding on a transit authority bus system. Despite the heightened duty owed to the plaintiff by a common carrier, Lee and Alex obtained summary judgment in the client's favor by demonstrating the plaintiff's fall was the result of her own assumption of the risk and failure to take reasonable precautions for her own safety by standing on the bus without holding on to any of the available handholds.

Washburn and Resnak Prevail in Case Already in Default

Lawrence Washburn (Partner-Atlanta, GA) and Alex Resnak (Associate-Atlanta, GA) obtained a complete win on behalf of a local housing authority client within weeks of receiving the case, which the client had unknowingly allowed to go into default. Days after taking the case, Lee and Alex obtained an order opening the default and immediately thereafter filed a motion for summary judgment. The Superior Court of Fulton County, Georgia, entered summary judgment in the client's favor on all the plaintiff's claims only weeks after Lee and Alex appeared.
