Sarasota, FL – 941.210.5961

Amaris Gyebi is a defense litigator who focuses her practice primarily on intricate intellectual property and commercial litigation matters related to patents, trademarks, copyrights, general liability and partnership disputes. Her litigation experience extends to both federal and state proceedings, opposition and cancellation proceedings before the United States Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, and Uniform Domain-Name Dispute-Resolution Policy (UDRP) proceedings before the National Arbitration Forum.

Prior to joining Wilson Elser, Amaris was an associate with a boutique intellectual property law firm in the Greater Orlando area, where she oversaw intellectual property acquisition, development, litigation and enforcement activities for clientele ranging from startups to household names and brands.

Commercial Litigation

In the commercial litigation area, Amaris has successfully handled dissolution of partnership disputes surrounding issues of breach of contract, unjust enrichment, ownership of intellectual and tangible property, and misappropriation of trade secrets.

Intellectual Property

Amaris has litigated several trademark and copyright infringement actions in court and before administrative boards. She is well versed in the protections and limitations afforded under state and federal statutes, which enables her to defend clients by showing how conduct qualifies for exception under the law as opposed to constituting a violation of the law.
