Tampa, FL – 813.682.3078

Ashley Collado Borrego brings more than 15 years of experience in civil litigation and insurance defense. Her practice focuses on representing individuals, businesses, and insurers throughout Florida in all phases of litigation. Throughout her career, she has handled matters involving personal injury, automobile negligence, premises liability, negligent security, wrongful death, construction defects, first-party property claims, dram shop and alcohol-related liability, and real estate disputes.

Ashley has successfully argued numerous dispositive motions, securing dismissals and summary judgments on behalf of her clients. She also has achieved favorable outcomes through mediation and at trial. She provides strategic counsel and develops practical, case-specific strategies tailored to efficiently and effectively resolve disputes and achieve favorable outcomes for her clients.

As a Florida Supreme Court Certified County Court Mediator, Ashley helps parties identify their interests, evaluate the strengths and challenges of their positions, and work toward efficient and informed resolutions when appropriate.

Before joining Wilson Elser, Ashley practiced with a national defense firm for 14 years. Prior thereto, she worked at a prominent local real estate firm, where she handled foreclosure matters and actions involving promissory notes.
