Jarad Kent (Partner-Tyler, TX) and Camille Kraft (Associate-Houston) prevailed on a quick motion for summary judgment on behalf of a global technology company in the 152nd District Court, Harris County. The plaintiff sued our client following an automobile accident. Jarad and Camille filed a quick motion for summary judgment, presenting arguments and clear and direct evidence establishing no liability on the client's part and directly refuting the arguments raised by the plaintiff in response to the motion. On the eve of the motion hearing, the plaintiff's counsel agreed to a voluntary dismissal of all claims brought against the client. Jarad and Camille's strategy in filing the quick motion for summary judgment and their aggressive push-back against opposing counsel's arguments prompted capitulation, making for a speedy and decisive win for Wilson Elser's client.
