Las Vegas, NV – 702.727.1372

Chad Harrison focuses his practice on complex commercial litigation including insurance defense, contract claims, and business torts. He has significant experience representing clients in pre-litigation and litigation disputes involving contracts, landlord/tenant issues, general liability, transportation, insurance coverage, intellectual property, antitrust claims, and corporation dissolution.

Prior to joining Wilson Elser, Chad served as an associate with local, regional, and national law firms. His background enables him to identify relevant issues in a general liability case quickly and effectively. He leverages his experience to develop creative and cost-effective strategies for case resolution.

Alternative Dispute Resolution

With ample knowledge and practice in the field of alternative dispute resolution across many types of claims, Chad explores all possible avenues for each case and advises clients about their options in and outside litigation. Chad co-authored a handbook used to train Rwandan judges and registrars in alternative dispute resolution strategies

Representative Matters

After leading an in-depth investigation into a personal injury plaintiff's litigation history, determined that the plaintiff's claims were fraudulent and secured a nominal settlement.

Successfully negotiated and obtained favorable settlements in multiple personal injury cases on behalf of major casinos, transportation companies, and other institutional clients.

Consistently obtained favorable results for institutional clients in personal injury arbitrations, including nominal settlement amounts, low award amounts, and defense awards.

As second chair at trial, successfully defended a client against a personal injury transportation claim.

After a two-week jury trial where plaintiff sought more than $3 million, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the clients, awarding plaintiffs only a small amount due to procedural issues.

As second chair in a bench trial, helped to secure a defense verdict on behalf of a small Nevada business involved in an employment/noncompete dispute.
