Baltimore, MD – 410.962.5288

George Alarcon represents businesses, insurers, and individuals in all aspects of civil litigation, with a focus on defending claims involving premises liability, mass torts, personal injury, business litigation, general liability, and automobile liability. He represents property owners, businesses, and individuals in matters ranging from routine negligence claims to serious and catastrophic injury cases, emphasizing early case assessment and litigation strategies tailored to the facts of each case and the venue in which it is litigated.

Before joining Wilson Elser, George practiced at a Baltimore defense litigation law firm, where he concentrated on defending insurers and insurance policyholders. He has represented clients in state and federal court, arguing motions to dismiss and motions for summary judgment and trying cases to verdict. He also has experience coordinating defense strategy across related claims and working closely with co-defendants and insurance carriers in complex litigation matters.

Insurance Defense

George defends insurers and their insureds in liability matters, bringing a detailed understanding of how carriers evaluate risk and manage litigation exposure from investigation through resolution.
