Jean Marie Hamer brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to her clients, with a concentration in insurance defense. She has significant experience defending claims including auto/trucking accidents, product liability, construction, and professional negligence. Her trial experience enables her to handle claims from inception and spot liability and damages issues early on in each case. Jean has defended claims for nationally known insurance carriers as well as for major corporate clients. She is proficient in discovery, including taking and defending the depositions of both fact witnesses and experts.

Detailed-oriented with more than 15 years of extensive experience, Jean navigates the intricate litigation landscape, managing teams, overseeing high-stakes litigation, and providing counsel in diverse areas. A strong communicator, Jean is known for achieving outstanding results and cost savings while upholding the highest ethical standards and ensuring legal compliance in complex regulatory environments.

Outside of work, Jean and her husband enjoy spending time with their award-winning goats, mini horses, chickens, and turkeys on their small farm in Bethany, Connecticut.

Mediation & Arbitration

While Jean is well versed in litigation, she has handled resolution of numerous cases outside the courtroom through mediation or arbitration. In a recent case, a Superior Court judge called her defense of the claim "masterful" and noted that through preparation and careful review of the plaintiff's medical records, she was able to bring a claim to resolution for a fraction of the demand.
