Jordan Cantrell primarily handles the defense of insurance, toxic tort, product liability and premises liability claims. Jordan's representation has involved premises owners, petrochemical companies and refineries, and large and small product manufacturers.

Prior to law school, Jordan worked as a senior paralegal in Wilson Elser's New York and New Jersey offices before joining the Philadelphia office as a Law Clerk in 2021. During law school, Jordan assisted low-income residents of New Jersey in filing Chapter 7 bankruptcy petitions. He received the Pro Bono Publico Award in large part for this volunteer work and was a participant in the Honorable James Hunter III Moot Court Appellate Advocacy competition.
