Julie Torres is a highly accomplished attorney recognized for her defense of corporate clients in a variety of areas, including complex litigation, product and premises liability, environmental, toxic torts, personal injury, construction defect, bad faith and malpractice. She practices in state and federal courts in jurisdictions in California and throughout the United States. Julie is a first-chair trial lawyer who has managed and litigated hundreds of cases for Fortune 500 corporations, insurance companies, medical and other professionals, medical facilities, general and sub-contractors, and trucking companies. She has consulted and advised clients on tested approaches for strategic governance, risk management, trial and resolution of cases.

Possessing specialized knowledge of state and federal civil practice statutes and rules, Julie diligently maintains knowledge of current case law, civil statutes and rules, making her the go-to choice for a loyal base of clients, with whom she maintains strong relationships. Julie actively contributes to professional development by ensuring quality training and guidance for associate attorneys and paralegals, and shares best practices for handling the defense of the firm's cases.
