San Francisco, CA – 415.625.0370

Kelsea Villanueva represents businesses and individuals in a broad range of civil litigation matters. Her practice focuses on defending claims involving general liability, personal injury, automobile liability, and premises liability.

Kelsea's litigation experience includes defamation actions, workplace injury claims, construction defect disputes, and employment matters involving workplace discrimination, wage and hour violations, and wrongful termination. She has represented both plaintiffs and defendants in these matters and has successfully handled cases through all stages of litigation.

Before joining Wilson Elser, Kelsea represented plaintiffs and defendants in litigation involving personal injury, contract disputes, and employment and labor matters.
