Washington, DC – 504.372.6713

Michael Ferragamo advises clients at the intersection of technology and law to manage risk in all areas of information privacy and security. With a multidisciplinary background that includes law firm and in-house experience, Michael is skilled at translating complex technical and legal challenges into clear, actionable guidance for stakeholders in the private, nonprofit, and public sectors. He also monitors and writes on emerging legal and regulatory developments in the cybersecurity and privacy arena. Michael previously served on an industry advisory board for nonprofit marketing agencies, where he contributed to the establishment of safe data management practices.

Incident Response & Regulatory Investigations

Michael regularly guides clients through complex cybersecurity investigations, including suspected data breaches that may trigger state or federal notification obligations. He has successfully represented entities in regulatory inquiries and enforcement actions involving the Department of Health and Human Services Office for Civil Rights, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), and state attorneys general.

Privacy & Compliance

In addition to incident response, Michael counsels clients on proactive compliance strategies. He collaborates with cross-functional teams to develop practical privacy and cybersecurity policies and procedures.
