

Rebecca R. Gelozin

Partner

rebecca.gelozin@wilsonelser.com

White Plains, NY – 914.872.7445

Rebecca Gelozin represents clients in state and federal court in complex commercial matters. She defends clients in a range of commercial and business disputes, including business torts, professional liability, breach of contract, employment disputes, securities litigation and other matters. Rebecca is a civil litigator skilled in arbitration, mediation, alternative dispute resolution and negotiating settlements. She also provides clients with risk management and best practice guidance to help them make better-informed decisions, resolve complex legal challenges and achieve specific business goals.

Rebecca handles a wide variety of contractual and business disputes, including cases involving fraud and financial crimes, RICO, ERISA, antitrust, class actions, unfair competition, employment disputes, partnership disputes and separations. Her clients include businesses of all sizes, banking institutions and accounting firms.

Having represented plaintiffs in the area of consumer law and class actions, Rebecca is able to provide clients with insights into potential strategies for an effective defense, specifically managing risks and anticipating potential issues.

Accountants

Rebecca has experience representing accounting firms and related organizations in a full range of their legal matters. She provides advice and representation in connection with regulatory investigations and proceedings, risk management, ethics proceedings and transactional matters. She also advises on partnership agreements, cyber breaches and personnel issues, among other areas.

e-Discovery

Rebecca has extensive experience advising clients on high-profile, high-volume cases relating to electronically stored information (ESI). She manages the collection, review and production of ESI on large-scale and complex projects for litigation, regulatory

Services

- Accountants
- Commercial Litigation
- Commercial Contracts & Agreements
- Financial Services
- Securities
- Class Action
- e-Discovery
- Cybersecurity & Data Privacy
- Government Investigations
- Professional Liability & Services

investigations, subpoenas and other matters. In addition, Rebecca counsels clients on electronic document retention issues and designs legal hold procedures to assist clients with defensible and cost-effective ESI preservation.

Education

- Rutgers School of Law (J.D., 2014)
- University of Connecticut (B.A., 2008)

Bar Admissions

- New York
- New Jersey

Court Admissions

- U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York

Professional Affiliations

- New York State Bar Association
- New Jersey State Bar Association

Publications

February 2025

Professionally Speaking

January 7, 2025

PLUS Publishes Gelozin Tips for Accountants Receiving Subpoenas

PLUS

October 23, 2024

How Should Accountants Respond to Subpoenas

Client Wins

Larkin and Gelozin Successfully Represent Accounting Firm in Informal PCAOB Inquiry

White Plains, New York, partners Peter Larkin and Rebecca Gelozin represented an accounting firm client regarding an informal inquiry from the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board's Division of Enforcement and Investigations. After providing extensive documents and information, our client was notified by the PCAOB that it has completed its informal inquiry and does not intend to recommend any enforcement action. PCAOB enforcement actions have increased in frequency and intensity in recent years, leading to many jaw-dropping fines being levied by the PCAOB, particularly when there are questions of compliance with the quality control standards. We avoided not only any mention of a fine by the PCAOB enforcement attorneys but also escalation from an informal to a formal investigation, not only keeping the firm out of harm's way but also truncating what is often a very difficult process to navigate.