Of Counsel

saima.aslam@wilsonelser.com

San Francisco, CA – 415.625.9292

Saima Aslam defends licensed California professionals in civil lawsuits and administrative claims, including real estate brokers, appraisers, lawyers, insurance agents, accountants, engineers, architects, contractors, subcontractors and miscellaneous professionals. She also represents employers in discrimination, wage and related lawsuits in state and federal court, as well as employers in administrative claims through the California Department of Fair Employment and Housing, the EEOC and the Department of Industrial Relations (Labor Commissioner).

In the area of torts and general liability, Saima defends cases involving habitability, personal injury, premises liability and a range of other matters.

Saima joined Wilson Elser from a boutique law firm in San Francisco where she practiced general insurance defense, including personal injury, labor and employment law, slip and fall and habitability matters. Saima obtained favorable settlements before the Department of Fair Employment and Housing.
