Orange County, CA – 949.404.3418

Sara Rabiee focuses her practice on civil litigation, with an emphasis on consumer warranty and insurance defense matters. She represents businesses and individuals in claims involving general liability, complex torts, wrongful death, premises liability, personal injury, construction defects, and business disputes. Her experience also includes representing commercial transportation and trucking companies, airlines, vehicle manufacturers, dealerships, insurers, and policyholders in matters involving warranty, insurance, and liability issues.

Before joining Wilson Elser, Sara practiced at insurance defense and consumer warranty law firms in Orange County, California. She approaches each matter with a practical, client-focused mindset and is committed to maintaining strong working relationships with clients and opposing counsel to efficiently resolve disputes whenever possible.
