

Sarah Torki

Of Counsel

sarah.torki@wilsonelser.com

San Francisco, CA – 415.625.9377

Sarah Torki is a versatile litigator who handles complex civil litigation, expertly navigating all facets of high-exposure civil matters and nuanced insurance defense issues.

A dedicated, results-driven attorney, Sarah focuses on toxic tort and engineered stone litigation. She is adept at managing all phases of civil actions, from initial case assessment and written discovery through depositions, motion practice, and trial preparation. Sarah is known for her meticulous attention to detail, strategic approach to defense litigation, and ability to effectively navigate complicated factual and procedural issues on behalf of her clients. She approaches each matter with zealous advocacy and a commitment to achieving efficient, favorable outcomes while maintaining strong client communication and responsiveness. Whether handling sophisticated toxic tort claims, catastrophic injury matters, or coordinated multiparty proceedings, Sarah is prepared to aggressively defend her clients' interests at every stage.

Sarah is also active in the Orange County Bar Association's Young Lawyers Division and enjoys spending time outdoors with her beloved rescue pup, Milo.

Silicosis Litigation

Sarah has successfully handled cases brought against manufacturers and distributors of engineered stone and various other products.

Education

- University of San Francisco School of Law (J.D., 2016)
 - Edward J. McFetridge Award for Excellence in Trial Advocacy
- University of San Diego (B.A. Political Science, cum laude, 2008)

Bar Admissions

- California

Services

- Engineered Stone
- Toxic Tort

Court Admissions

- U.S. District Court, Eastern District of California
- U.S. District Court, Central District of California

Professional Affiliations

Orange County Bar Association, Young Lawyers Division

Languages

- French