Savannah Green represents businesses and individuals in a broad range of civil litigation matters. Her practice focuses on defending claims involving general liability, personal injury, and construction defects. She handles matters through all stages of litigation, including discovery, depositions, motion practice, mediation, settlement negotiations, and trial preparation.

Before joining Wilson Elser, Savannah practiced real estate litigation at a civil litigation firm, where she represented landlords in landlord-tenant and unlawful detainer matters, individuals in homeowners association disputes, and general contractors in construction defect litigation.
